CONSTRUCTION

The mosque in Ayodhya, named Mohammed Bin Abdullah Masjid, is being constructed as a replacement for the Babri Masjid, following the Supreme Court of India's 2019 verdict. This mosque is part of a larger project overseen by the Indo-Islamic Cultural Foundation (IICF), which includes not only a mosque but also a hospital, museum, library, and community kitchen on a 5-acre land.

PROJECT

Alongside the mosque, the project will include a multi-specialty hospital, a library, a community kitchen, and an Indo-Islamic Research Centre.

ARCHITECTURAL STYLE

The mosque is expected to have a modern design, distinct from traditional mosque architecture. It will be eco-friendly and designed to accommodate solar energy and other green technologies.

AREA

The mosque and associated structures will occupy a 5-acre plot of land, as provided by the Supreme Court ruling.

OUR VISION

The vision of Muhammad bin Abdullah Masjid is to become a beacon of peace, unity, and service in the heart of Ayodhya. It aims to foster a sense of community and inclusivity by promoting values of interfaith harmony, spiritual growth, and social welfare. Through its efforts, the mosque aspires to create an environment where people of all faiths and backgrounds can come together, promoting coexistence, understanding, and mutual respect.

OUR MISSION

EDUCATION

Promote charitable and humanitarian activities, including providing free healthcare, education, and social services to those in need. Act as a centre for cultural exchange and learning through its Indo-Islamic cultural research centre, encouraging dialogue between different faiths.

WORSHIP

Serve as a place of worship and spiritual reflection for the local Muslim community. Uphold the principles of Islam by fostering values of peace, compassion, and community service.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Ensure that the mosque is not just a religious space but also a symbol of social development and progress for the entire region.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the Mohammed Bin Abdullah Masjid in Ayodhya stands as a symbol of reconciliation, peace, and communal harmony. Built on a 5-acre plot as part of a broader cultural and humanitarian complex, this mosque is not only a place of worship but also a centre for community service, education, and healthcare. Its modern, eco-friendly design reflects a progressive approach, embracing sustainable practices while promoting unity. As it replaces the historic Babri Masjid, the mosque represents a new chapter, fostering understanding and inclusivity in the diverse fabric of Indian society.
